ICSSR ANNUAL REPORT 1991-92

I GENERAL

ORGANIZATION

THIS is the Twenty-third Annual Report of the Indian Council of Social Science Research (ICSSR) covering the period 1 April 1991 to 31 March 1992.

The ICSSR's main deliberative body known as the Council has twenty-six members—a Chairman, eighteen Social Scientists, six Representatives of the Government of India nominated by the Government and a Member-Secretary appointed by the ICSSR with the approval of the Government of India.

On 31 March 1992 the term of Prof. K.N. Pannikar, Prof. Jai B.P. Sinha, Dr. Kamalanathan, Prof. R. Rath, Prof. S.M. Dubey came to an end. (Appendix 1).

COUNCIL AND COMMITTEE MEETINGS

The Council has, apart from itself, seven other committees comprising members drawn both from the Council members and also from outside. The following table shows the number of meetings of the Council and its standing-and functional-committees held during the year 1991-92:

Council/Committees	No. of Meetings
Indian Council of Social Science Research	2
Planning and Administration Committee	2
Research Committee	2

ICSSR SECRETARIAT

The ICSSR Secretariat is headed by the Member-Secretary and has a total strength of 73 Officers (Appendix 2), Administrative and Accounts Secretariat, Clerks and Library Assistants etc. The Council's staff has been academically active and contributed a number of seminar papers, doctoral theses, research reports and other such activities.

The Administrative Block of the ICSSR campus is almost complete and the ICSSR is likely to shift to its new site very soon. The construction of the auditorium could not be undertaken because of paucity of funds.

II RESEARCH PROMOTION

PROMOTION OF research in social sciences is the objective for which the Council was constituted. This it does mainly by (1) keeping track of literature, researches, and trends in the social science research in the country through its Survey of Research series; (2) inviting new research proposals under its research projects and other specialized research programmes; (3) granting various types of research fellowships, contingency grants to research scholars, study grants, etc.; and, (4) conducting seminars, training courses, and workshops for the benefit of young social scientists in India. The Council's activities in all these areas during 1991-92 were as follows:

SURVEY OF RESEARCH IN SOCIAL SCIENCES

This scheme was launched in 1970 to monitor the state of social science research in the country. It was felt that these surveys of researches already done would help the Council in formulating its research promotion policies and identifying priority areas of research. They were also meant to help in the teaching of Social Sciences in the Country.

Under this programme an advisory committee of social scientists is formed for each subject separately. The panel identifies contributors who are asked to survey the literature on the subject for the stipulated period of taht series. The progress of the surveys during 1991-92 is as follows:

FIRST SERIES

Twenty-four volumes have been published so far in the first series.

SECOND SERIES

MANAGEMENT

Second Survey of Research in Management (1970-79). The Volume has been published.

POLITICAL SCIENCE

Second Survey of Research in Political Science, 1969-79, Professor V.R. Mehta (Convener). Eight reports have been received so far.

RESEARCH PROJECTS

At the beginning of the year 358 social science research proposals were under consideration. During the year 219 proposals were received. Of the total 577 research proposals, 60 were sanctioned, 112 were rejected or recorded for various reasons and 405 were under consideration at the end of the year.

ICSSR-ICMR JOINT PANEL ON HEALTH

The first phase of the Joint Panel was completed towards the end of 1990. The Joint Panel accepted the sub-group reports and review papers prepared during the first phase, and the scholars were given the freedom to publish their papers in the manner they deem fit with the provision that the ICSSR will provide support to facilitate publication. Two out of the four sub-group reports have been published and the other two are in the press. The review paper has been published and the other papers are in the pipeline.

On the recommendations of the Joint Panel, Dr. Meera Chatterjee was requested to prepare a policy document highlighting the specific recommendations for research and action on the basis of the findings of the reports. The Panel discussed the document and it desired that the document should be revised. This suggestion has been conveyed to Dr. Meera Chatterjee.

During the first phase, a Quarterly Bulletin entitled Social Science and Health has been brought out. In its last meeting the Panel expressed satisfaction at the modest beginning that had been made during the first phase. It, however, recommended that during the second phase a much more comprehensive research programme should be undertaken so that substantial inputs can be made into the health policies and programmes that need to be pursued during the 9th Five Year Plan. The following areas were broadly accepted by the Panel as priority areas for the second phase:

1. Role of Medical Profession in Health System
2. Support Structures
3. Community Participation
4. Medical and Health Manpower
5. Indigenous Medicines
6. Health and Panchayati Raj System
7. Multi-Nationals and their Role in Health Systems
8. Grass-Root Level Organizations (NGOs)
9. Gender Bias in Health Care
10. Rational Health Care
11. Impact of New Economic Policies on Health

In addition to the above areas the Panel also recommended that some research effort in the area of psychological factors in health and illness should be encouraged.

TRIBAL STUDIES PROGRAMME

The sponsored programme on Tribal Studies comprises four broad areas of research, i.e. (i) Command Over Resources (including, social, economic, and cultural); (ii) Issues in Tribal Movements; (iii) Tribal Situation and Paradigm of Tribal Development, and (iv) Self-Governing Systems of Tribal Communities including arrangements under the Vth and VIth Schedule.

Under this programme, scholars have been identified to write the review papers on related themes. In this programme, the Council has received 21 papers in total. The groupwise break-up of the papers is as follows:

1. Command Over Resources	5
2. Self-Governing Systems of Tribal Communities	13
3. Issues in Tribal Movement	3
4. Tribal Situation and Paradigm of Tribal Development	nil

RESEARCH PROGRAMME ON THEORETICAL AND METHODOLOGICAL ISSUES IN SOCIAL SCIENCE RESEARCH

The project will analyse the contribution of research projects and fellowships funded by the Council to social science development and policies including the methodological trends reflected in the studies surveyed.

PROGRAMME ON CRITICAL EXAMINATION OF THE WORKS OF OUTSTANDING
INDIAN SOCIAL SCIENTISTS: SERIES OF NATIONAL SEMINARS

The Council has decided to begin this series of seminars with the works of Professor D.D. Kosambi. An Advisory Committee has been set up to advise and guide the academic and organizational aspects of this seminar.

ICSSR-UNESCO PILOT PROJECT ON SOCIAL AND DEMOGRAPHIC CHANGE RELATED TO THE ELDERLY

This pilot project has been undertaken by the Council at the behest of the UNESCO Regional Office for Social and Human Sciences in Asia and Pacific.

The ICSSR has constituted a Task Force consisting of specialists from various social science disciplines to advise it and also guide the project. The Task Force consists of nine members. The first meeting of the Task Force was held on 22 November 1991. Members of the Task Force, advised that the following tasks be undertaken: (1) Preparation of an annotated bibliography; (2) Commission's introductory work on trend reports; and (3) Hold a National Workshop. The Task Force identified a number of themes for the review papers to be commissioned along with their coordinators/writers. In pursuance of this, scholars were requested to undertake the task of writing the review papers.

The scholars/coordinators prepared the drafts of the trends reports and a draft volume of the 'Annotated Bibliography on the Aged in India' has also been prepared by NASSDOC, ICSSR.

A National Workshop was held on 11-13 March 1992 to discuss the review papers. The scholars are now finalizing their papers in the light of the discussions which took place in the Workshop. The draft bibliography was also discussed in the Workshop.

FELLOWSHIPS

NATIONAL FELLOWSHIPS

The National Fellowships of the ICSSR are offered by the Council on its own initiative to outstanding social scientists, who have made significant contribution to research, in recognition of the excellence of their work and with a view to enabling them to continue their academic work. During the year 1991-92 Dr. B.R. Ambedkar National Fellowship has been initiated on the occasion of centenary year of Dr. B.R. Ambedkar and the Council has offered the fellowship to Prof. Y.D. Phadke.

III DOCUMENTATION

ICSSR HAS a documentation unit known as National Social Science Documentation Centre (NASSDOC) at its headquarters, 35 Ferozeshah Road, New Delhi to provide library and information services to social science community. This activity is virtually equivalent to what logistics is for defence and industry. For optimizing the results of research funding and research promotional activities such a service is an absolute necessity. In fact, documentation, data archival facilities, and dissemination of information through publications are the life support systems for a viable intellectual outfit in any country.

The National Social Science Documentation Centre (NASSDOC) provides regular services like literature search including bibliography compilation, documents delivery and referral services to the social scientists. The details of its activities during 1991-92 are as follows :

NASSDOC RESEARCH INFORMATION SERIES

The following mimeographed publications were brought out under NASSDOC'S Research Information Series :

1. Acquisition Update

For the current awareness of the interested scholars 'Acquisition Update' is brought out twice in a year. It includes reference works, Ph.D. theses, research project reports, conference/seminar papers/working papers acquired in the National Social Science Documentation Centre. During the period under review the following issues were brought out : January-June 1990; July-December 1990; and January-June 1991.

EXCHANGE

Editors and publishers of 58 journals were approached for exchange of journals during the period. Exchange agreement for 18 journals were finalized.

V DATA ARCHIVES

THE DATA Archives has been actively engaged in a number of programmes to provide services to social science community relating to the acquisition, systematization, organization, and dissemination of data sets with potential for secondary analysis. It has also been extending guidance and consultancy services in data processing to scholars and researchers with the cooperation of a few other research institutes besides Data Archives.

DATA REPOSITORY

Under this programme, Data Archives is engaged in building a repository of quantitative data in machine readable form to facilitate exchange of data among interested scholars and institutions. The Data Archives has primarily relied on the ICSSR funded projects. Out of 161 data sets acquired so far, 115 are ICSSR funded and the rest are studies funded by other agencies.

The Council has also been providing financial and technical assistance to various research institutes to promote systematic organization of significant data sets. Subsequently, these organized data sets are acquired by the Data Archives.

During the year, 61 project directors have been requested to furnish details on their studies. In addition, negotiations are on with 45 project directors. During the period four data sets have been acquired (Appendix 9).

NATIONAL REGISTER OF SOCIAL SCIENTISTS IN INDIA

The National Register of Social Scientists in India was published in 1983. The register contains information about academic background and research interests and publications of about 7,500 scholars engaged in research and/or teaching in various social science disciplines during 1976-80.

The Data Archives is currently engaged in updation and compilation of National Register of Social Scientists in India since 1987. At present information on about 4,600 social scientists is available in the computerized data base.

GUIDANCE AND CONSULTANCY SERVICES IN DATA PROCESSING

This programme provides guidance and consultancy services to researchers and scholars in framing research tools for data collection, formulation of research design, devising code books, and selection of appropriate statistical techniques for data analysis : computer programming support is also extended, if necessary. During the period, these facilities were availed by 70 scholars. Besides Data Archives, nine other research institutes located in different parts of India are extending these facilities to the scholars. Efforts are continuously being made to enlarge the coverage of this programme. A list of the institutes participating in this programme can be seen in Appendix 10 and a list of scholars who have availed these facilities at various centres can be seen in Appendix 11.

GIRL CHILD AND THE FAMILY

The Data Archives provided data processing facilities to an all India study on the 'Girl Child and the Family', a research and action project sponsored by the Department of Women and Child Development, Ministry of Welfare, Government of India. The Central focus of the project is on studying the impact of development process on the opportunity structure and future life chances of girls between the age of 7 and 18 years. Twenty-two women centres, located in different universities, have collected relevant data from 13,200 girls, their mothers and households sampled from 57 districts covering 14 states. The statistical processing of the data is in progress.

ICSSR RESEARCH GRANTS INFORMATION SYSTEM (RGIS)

A computer-aided information system for effective monitoring of various research grants has been developed. The system, as reported earlier, includes all proposals for research grants received since 1985. The proposals relating to research projects, fellowships, and contingency grants for the current year are being computerized.

COMPUTING FACILITIES

One of the important functions of the Data Archives is to provide computer-aided services to the community of social science researchers. The Computer Unit in Data Archives has a mini computer SIRIUS-32 (based on MC 68020 micro processor) with a 4MB main memory and 600 MB Winchester hard disk storage, 2 tape drives, a line printer, four terminals, and ten IBM compatible PC/XT/ATs.

It has acquired a well-known statistical package (SPSS/PC+) which provides a wide range of capabilities for undertaking various univariate, bi-variate, and multivariate analyses of data. This package is extremely user-friendly and uses terminologies easily understood by social scientists. It is also supported by useful documentation and detailed manuals. This package comes in several self-contained modules. The Data Archives has acquired three modules—the Basic Statistics, the Advanced Statistics, and the Trends.

The Basic module contains all data and file handling routines to generate descriptive statistics, contingency tables of categorical variables along with their related summary measures, Pearson correlation, regression, and analysis of variance.

The Advanced Statistics module, which complements the basic module, has programmes for other multivariate statistical techniques, such as factor analysis, cluster analysis, loglinear models, discriminant analysis and multivariate analysis of variance.

The module Trends, on the other hand, is primarily for analysing time-series data. It includes programmes for curve fitting, smoothing special regression and Box Jenkins/ARIMA modelling procedures.

The computing facilities, besides being used for inhouse applications, are also made available to institutions and researchers in social sciences at a nominal charge of Rs. 300 per hour. For additional information, please contact the Director, Data Archives, 35 Ferozeshah Road, New Delhi-110 001.

NICNET FACILITY

The Data Archives has an access to the NICNET facility provided by the National Informatics Centre (NIC), Government of India. A Dial-up PC terminal at the Data Archives is now available for this facility. With this facility it is possible to get information stored in GISTNIC, a data base which provides on the line information on statistical profile of India, district-level economic indicators, guide to the university education, directory of hospitals in India, tables on world economy, and country profiles etc.

Under general statistics of India, one can get various statistics on Indian economy, like annual growth rates, per capita availability of selected articles for consumption, profiles of four metropolitan cities and India's rank in the world.

For international comparisons of the economy tables provide information on 118 parameter for 137 countries from the data files of the World Bank, Washington. In addition, the country profiles give details on population, languages spoken, religion, forms of Government and other general information including currency etc. Interested scholars may get in touch with Executive Director, Data Archives, 35 Ferozeshah Road, New Delhi-110 001 for further information and use of this facility.

Outside the above Cultural Exchange Programme the Council is also seriously considering the possibility of establishing collaborative relations with Shanghai Institute of International Studies, Shanghai. In March 1972 Mr. Chen Peiyo and Mr. Wang Hong Yu of the Institute visited India to explore the possibility of establishing long-term collaboration between Indian Council of Social Science Research and their own Institute. During their discussion with ICSSR representatives it has been suggested that both sides shall take steps to exchange publications and scholars and hold seminars. The details of such activities will be worked out through further negotiations.

INDIA-EGYPT

Under this programme the Council has proposed to exchange one or two scholars every year and also to organize a seminar on the 'Role of India, Egypt, and other Developing Countries in the Emerging International Order'.

INDIA-DEMOCRATIC PEOPLE'S REPUBLIC OF KOREA (DPRK)

The ICSSR delegation could not visit the Democratic People's Republic of Korea because of the ban on foreign travel. However, a three-member delegation from their side visited India as guests of the ICSSR during the month of December 1991. The purpose of their visit was to exchange their views on social science development and also to continue their academic contacts with research institutes in India.

ACTIVITIES OUTSIDE CULTURAL EXCHANGE PROGRAMMES

INDIA-JAPAN

ICSSR has been always acting as a facilitating agency for social scientists coming from Japan to India in their individual or official capacity. During mid-70s and early '80s the Council made some attempts to establish institutional links with Japan with a view to promoting social science collaboration among scholars of the two countries. But for some reasons those attempts did not materialize.

In late 1988, ICSSR Chairman came in contact with Professor Chie Nakane, an eminent anthropologist of Japan and a few of her colleagues as members of the newly constituted Japanese Association of South Asian Studies (JASAS). Following their discussion a seminar was organized at New Delhi in March 1990 in which the members of JASAS and the ICSSR representatives took part. The seminar focussed on India and Japanese experience in tradition and modernity. At that time their visit to India was funded by JSPS. It was decided that a follow-up seminar should be held in Tokyo in 1991 which could not be held due to ban on foreign travel at that time.

In November 1991, at the request of Department of Culture, Ministry of Human Resource Development the ICSSR sent a proposal to be considered under the Indo-Japan Mixed Commission for Cooperation. The proposal essentially included holding of joint seminars, exchanging 2 or 3 scholars preferably in the specific areas connected with society and culture in South and Southeast Asia, development experience of Japan, impact of science and technology, and the emerging world economic order. The outcome of the proposal was still awaited.

Meanwhile the JSPS took an initiative by sending a five member delegation to India for discussing further possibilities of collaboration with ICSSR, ICHR, and UGC from 2 to 5 March 1992.

The members of the delegation were Professors Chie Nakane, Sengaku Mayeda, Matsuo Ara, Toru Matsui, and Ms Yuko Furukawa.

At their meeting with the ICSSR it was decided that the seminar which was planned earlier may now be held in Tokyo from 9 to 10 September 1992. The theme of the seminar will be 'Understanding Japan and India in the Process of Modernization'.

It was also decided that the concluding session of the Tokyo seminar will be devoted to identification of priority areas for joint research and collaboration. Besides the seminar, both sides have also agreed in principle to exchange one or two senior scholars for 15 to 20 days initially for a year or two and then review the position.

INDO-DUTCH PROGRAMME ON

ALTERNATIVES IN DEVELOPMENT (IDPAD)

Two meetings of the Advisory Committee on IDPAD were held on 20 August 1991 and 16 January 1992 respectively and reviewed research projects' activities in the third phase of the programme under implementation. Out of 25 projects approved in the 3rd phase (1991-94) 21 projects have already commenced, one dropped and three are yet to start.

The Joint Committee on IDPAD held on 4 September 1991 in The Hague, reviewed the 2nd and 3rd phases of the programme under co-chairmanship of Prof. J.G. Waardenburg from the Dutch side. The Committee was concerned about the incomplete research projects of the 2nd phase and directed the secretariat to expedite the completion of these projects. The Committee noted completed research projects. The Committee also noted difficulties of the new projects in the 3rd phase. The Committee discussed the proposal of initiating commissioned papers on the two themes: (i) the role of the scientific research bureaus connected with the political parties in Europe and (ii) the role of NGOs and foreign funding. The Committee endorsed the appointment of a full-time IDPAD Officer in the ICSSR to work with the Indian Co-ordinator.

The 23rd meeting of the Joint Committee on IDPAD was held on 20-21 January 1992 at New Delhi. The Committee reviewed research projects and other activities of the Programme:

1. The Committee approved holding of a cluster meeting among the representatives of projects relating to slum problem on 15-17 July 1992.
2. The Committee approved a review seminar on 'Cair Industry' on the basis of a project report completed under the second phase of the programme.
3. A joint seminar on 'Restructured Europe and India in a Global Perspective', to be held in the Netherlands in December 1992 was also approved.
4. The Committee decided to hold a seminar on 'Comparative Research and Alternatives in Development in the Near Future in India'.

NEW PROJECTS

The Committee accepted the research project of Gopal Kadekodi on 'Operationalizing Sustainable Development in the Regional Context'.

SEMINARS

1. The reviewing seminar on Right to Work was organized to discuss project report of Dr. Indira Hirway Piet Terhal at Gandhi Labour Institute, Ahmedabad from 23 to 25 September 1991 in which 40 Indian scholars and some foreign experts participated.

2. From 19 to 22 December 1991 a project bound seminar on 'Rural Proleterization of Bengal' was held at Calcutta in which five scholars from Bangladesh and one from Holland took part along with ten participants from Delhi and Calcutta.

3. One day discussion on 'South and North in the 1990s: A World of Difference', was held on 17 January 1992 at New Delhi in which Dr. Jan Pronk, Minister for Development Co-operation of the Netherlands was the main speaker. This meeting was attended by a large number of Indian scholars and policy makers. The discussion was essentially based on the following documents written by Dr. Pronk.

(i) Policy Memorandum of the Dutch Government : 'A World of Difference : New Framework for Development Cooperation in 1990s' (The Hague, September, 1990).

(ii) 'Towards a System of Responsible Global Governance for Development', speeches by Jan Pronk (The Hague, February, 1990).

VIII OTHER PROGRAMMES

APART FROM creating and maintaining infrastructural services for social science research at its headquarters in New Delhi and at Regional Centres, and helping the research institutes in this regard the ICSSR undertakes research promotional work both directly and in a vicarious manner. Directly, it is done through schemes of various research grants and fellowships, organizing seminars, training courses, workshops, and so on. Indirectly, the Council promotes research by giving financial help to University departments, groups, institutions, and voluntary organizations that do not come in its regular programme of financial assistance, for organizing seminars and workshops on one time basis.

Such conferences, congresses, seminars, and workshops and the grants sanctioned to them are reported under the heading 'Other Programmes' of the Council. In this category also comes the Council's programme of giving financial help to social science journals on a selective basis.

During the year 1991-92 the first part of this category of Council's activities, i.e. financial support to conferences, congresses, seminars, etc. had to be stopped due to lack of funds at the disposal of the Council. Therefore, the information in this section of the report is confined to the financial help given to social science journals which continued at the usual pace. However, conferences, seminars etc. continued to get financial support from the ICSSR Regional Centres and research institutes as before and they are reported under their activities. Such grants were not sanctioned only from the ICSSR headquarters during the year.

IX RESEARCH INSTITUTES

THE INDIAN Council of Social Science Research provides maintenance and development grants to 25 research institutes. Presently, the Council has suspended grant to CRESSIDA, Calcutta as the Centre is not able to generate matching grant from other sources. Sponsoring of research institutes outside the scope of the University Grants Commission has been one of the major programmes of the Council in enlarging the base of social science knowledge, improving the quality of research, and promoting an interdisciplinary perspective. These institutes constitute an important mechanism for implementing the Council's policy of dispersal of research talents and building up of research capabilities in the different regions of the country, particularly in the areas where social science is not yet well developed.

The Council has tried to implement the recommendations of the Review Committees of research institutes particularly in regard to the renewal of faculty, upgrading of infrastructure and research facilities and encouraging areas of research beyond traditional academic boundaries.

The research institutes have established close links with the scholars in the region as well as elsewhere through seminars, workshops and training, and consultancy programmes. Some of the institutes are closely associated with national and state level planning and development agencies and have thereby strengthened the links between research and policy making.

Each of the institutes identifies its own direction of research studies which includes a wide spectrum of subjects related to agricultural and rural development, industrial structure and growth, income distribution and poverty, employment and wages, inter-regional differences in levels of development, education, health, nutrition, problems of weaker sections of society including women, energy, technology, ecology and environment and social, cultural, and institutional aspects of development. Thus studies have generated substantial empirical knowledge of the structure of Indian economy and society and their dynamics both at the national and regional levels.

One hundred and ninety-seven research projects were completed in these institutes during the year under report. The total number of ongoing studies at the end of the year was 370.

Research institutes disseminate the results of their studies in the form of published books and mimeographs and working/occasional papers etc. During the year, number of books published were 48, monographs/mimeographs circulated were 68 and those of working/occasional papers/articles 383.

The institutes also undertake training of young social scientists and assist fresh researchers in designing and conducting their research. To this end, doctoral fellowships have been provided to these institutes. Some of the institutes have been assisting in teaching and training programmes for M.Phil. and Ph.D. students. In addition, as per the Council's policy they participate in postgraduate teaching, research guidance in the universities and also involve the university teachers in their research programmes. Thirty-seven scholars working under the guidance of the faculties of the research institutes were awarded Ph.D. degrees. During the year, 31 scholars submitted their doctoral dissertations, and 147 scholars were working at the research institutes. Over seven hundred seminars including international seminars, lectures, and workshops were held during 1991-92.

The overall focus of the A.N. Sinha Institute of Social Studies is development with particular reference to problems of Bihar and eastern region.
